The center of disturbance appeared to be about 400 miles from San Jose and not closer than 200 miles."

C., April 30.—After midnight tomorrow agents of the department of justice will begin obtaining evidence showing what brewers continue manufacturing beer when the prohibition to use foods to manufacture beer, wine and other liquors becomes effective. problematic. It is not expected that the Italian delegation will return to Paris at present. It is planned to proceed making peace with Germany regardless of any Italian action. It is reported that Japan's and China's rival claims to Kiao Chau have been reconciled. The proposed solution is not disclosed. The full German peace delegation has reached Versailles. Their initial meeting is expected Friday. The presentation of the treaty will probably be delayed until Saturday. At least one demonstration in which a window on the cars was broken marked the trip of the Germans across France.

ROME, April 30.—Addressing parliament last night Premier Orlando said it was Italy's duty to preserve an attitude of "calm and serenity" at present. He laid before parliament his demand for Fiume and the Dalmatian coast district to which Italy had laid claim. He said the international situation was grave. He added: "Very grave for Italy." He gave an outline of his exchanges with President Wilson and made clear the president's action in making public his statement regarding Italy's claim to Fiume which made it impossible either to accept or reject any proposal that might be made. The premier said he believed his duty was to come to parliament to receive authority in carrying forward his work at the conference.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—Post office inspectors discovered 17 internal machines put in the mail in New York addressed to men prominent in official and private life, today. They believe the fact that they had insufficient postage was the only reason they failed to be delivered.

Postmaster General Burleson, Secretary Wilson, John D. Rockefeller and J. Pierpont Morgan were among the names on the packages which bore the labels of a novelty house in New York which disclaimed ownership and declared the labels were forged. A similar bomb sent to former Senator Hardwick exploded when opened and injured Mrs. Hardwick and blew off the hands of a negro maid.

Commissioner General Caminetti, Mayor Hyman, Governor Sproule of Pennsylvania, Solicitor General Lamar, Immigration Commissioner Howe of New York, and Associate Justice Holmes were among others to whom the bombs were addressed.

CLARENCE KIND
MAKES CHANGE

J. Clarence Kind, secretary of the Nev-Cal. Tel. Tel. company for the past three and a half years, leaves that concern tomorrow to devote his entire time to the insurance business with an office on Main street, near his brother's store. Mr. Kind has been looking after the affairs of the Southern Nevada Abstract company in addition to his duties at the telephone office but, owing to the great increase in the latter line he decided recently to retire from the other position. No successor will be appointed for the present, as F. G. Waterhouse, general manager, will look after the work.

RESCUE OPENS
BIG ORE BODY

An enormous ore body measuring 18 feet wide in a slope requiring 24 foot stulls has been opened on the Eula claim of the Rescue-Eula Mining company through operations in the Tonopah Belmont company's Del Monte claim. The Belmont kept on stowing until they reached the end line of the Eula where they had to cease operations. The slope is above the 1000 foot level of the Belmont and was narrowly missed by Manager Moore in running a raise some months before to the 500 level from the 1650 on his own ground. The ore body is formed by a split in what is known as the Chandler vein which showed five feet of rich ore on the hanging wall side, the present values being on the footwall where the Belmont slope has been carried up to the Rescue line for a width of 18 feet. The ledge glistens with native silver making the whole mass good for $25 or more as it is broken down.

were mailed Saturday night. The fact that bombs were received in San Francisco Saturday caused officials to suggest the distribution was probably part of a terrorist plot.

Post office inspectors had no clue today regarding the senders. The packages were mailed in the Manhattan district. They were placed in ordinary mail boxes and would have gone forward to the addressees but for the lack of postage, according to officials. The suspicions of a clerk were aroused by reading of the Hardwick bomb explosion which resulted in opening the parcel.

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Two bombs were delivered to the district attorney's office in San Francisco Saturday. One was addressed to District Attorney Feltner and another to Assistant District Attorney Culina. It is claimed they are exactly the same as the bomb received by Mayor Hanson of Seattle. Both were mailed in New York.

The bomb mailed to Culina when opened was found to contain percussion caps, acid and an explosive.

HOLDS SESSION

TONOPAH BAR IS HONORED

The Bar of Nevada and particularly the Bar of Tonopah was accorded notable recognition this week when Hugh Henry Brown, required formal notification that he had been selected as one of the four lawyers who will make speeches at the annual banquet of the American Bar association to be held next August in one of the eastern cities. The fact that only four speakers are chosen for this national event is an indication of the unusual honor implied in their selection. But nothing is too good for Tonopah these days. Tonopah's mines and Tonopah's men can stand any test.

The notice received by Mr. Brown was from George T. Page of Chicago, president of the American Bar association.
